

Scott Grover

Pro Rodeo Announcer

Scott was born on December 5, 1977 in the small town of Morrowville, Kansas, Home of the World's First Bulldozer. He grew up in a rural area deep in farming, but not to a rodeo family. He was hooked after going to his first rodeo. Scott did not even have a horse until he was 12 years old. But that didn't matter, from the time that he saw his first rodeo, he played rodeo, read about rodeo, and dreamed about rodeo.

In 1996 after graduating from high school he attended Southeast Community College in Beatrice, Nebraska where he majored in Agribusiness and was a member of the rodeo club. It was while attending SCC that he "fell" into announcing rodeos. He and his roommates would help out at a local arena on the weekends during youth rodeos. One Saturday night the producer called about 11:00pm and said that her announcer couldn't make it for the Sunday performance, would Scott step in? Two months later he was announcing one of the biggest sanctioned bull ridings that he had ever seen, and has stayed busy traveling the country ever since.

After graduation from SCC, Scott transferred to Kansas State University where he received a bachelor's degree in Agricultural. Before moving to Ottawa County he taught agricultural Education at Council Grove, Kansas for four years.

Scott joined the PRCA in 2005 and has been a 4X Announcer of the Dodge Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo, along with many other rodeo accomplishments.

He prides himself on his desire and drive to make each rodeo be the best event it can be.
